JUDGE WOODS' RECORD

Will be Availed in the Senate Before His Appointment is Confirmed—Vouchers Oppose Him.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Judge Woods, of Indiana, who was recently nominated for one of the new circuit judgships, will, from all appearances, have a thorny path to travel before he receives his commission. At the first executive session of the senate this week, an attempt will be made to have the confirmation of Judge Woods considered in open session. This step will be taken by Senators Vouchers and Turpie, who are opposed to this nomination. Those making the fight against this confirmation, headed by the senators from Indiana, say they want to show to the senate the merits and demerits of this appointment and with that end in view they seek as large an audience as possible. The democrats expect assistance from the republican side of the chamber in this matter, for, it is claimed, that the appointment is judicial and not political, and it will receive the most careful consideration at the hands of the senate, and the fitness of the nominee to serve on the federal bench will be passed upon without partisan prejudice. Whether the Indiana senators gain this point or not, in the preliminary bout, the opposition will be kept up to the last moment and the record of Judge Wood will be assailed in executive session.

AN INDIAN SCARE.

The Tongue River Agency Excited and Bloodshed Threatened.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—A telegram from Helena, Mont., yesterday, said there is danger of bloodshed on the Tongue river agency. The army officers at headquarters here put little faith in the suggestion of bloodshed, but that there is a bad feeling on the Tongue river reservation is admitted. It has existed for a long time, and the killing of cattle referred to in the special occurred about five weeks ago. For a long time the cattle men have accused the Indians of killing their cattle, and during the past few weeks, being unable to get at the Indians in any other way, they have been urging the sheriff to get a posse and go to the reservation for the purpose of making the arrests. Captain Boutelle, of troop K, of the First cavalry, who is stationed at the agency, heard of this and telegraphed the facts to General Merritt. Thereupon General Merritt telegraphed Boutelle advising him to prevent the civil authorities from entering the reservation, since such action would have resulted in trouble. The Indians are accustomed to the presence of soldiers and will quietly submit to an arrest by them, but they regard the presence of others as an interference and an intrusion on their rights, and had the whites under the sheriff attempted the arrests, trouble of some sort would have followed. That it would have been very serious or resulted in bloodshed is extremely doubtful, for the cavalry would easily have held matters in check. This is but the occasion of the periodical Indian scare from the Tongue River agency and is causing the army officials no uneasiness.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—General Merritt, in command of South Dakota, said last night that his dispatches to Fort Keogh and Helena were to prevent action by the officials of Custer county. He thinks the excitement will blow over in a day or two and then the Indians who have been killing cattle there can be arrested without bloodshed.

Lewiston, Mont., Jan. 11.—Reports received from Lame Deer agency yesterday afternoon indicated that everything is quiet among the Cheyennes. It is said that the danger of an outbreak has been freely exagerated. There are exciting rumors afloat in all directions, but so far nothing has materialized. It was reported last night that shots were exchanged between a party of Indians and a party of hunters in Custer county, but no one was injured. The authorities are keeping a sharp eye upon the Indians and will take effective measures to check any outbreak.

A SHE DEMON.

A Woman Goes About Committing Deeds of Outlawry.

Coltmers, Wis., Jan. 11.—Liddie A. Walter, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Samuel Walter, living in the town of Calumus, four miles from this city, was Friday discovered in the act of setting fire to a barn of Julius Venie. She sought to escape by running, but finding her pursuers gaining upon her she drew a large butcher knife and defied arrest. Two blows from a club were necessary to compell her to surrender, and when finely safe in jail at Juneau she confessed to having committed fifteen deeds of outlawry in Calumus during the past three months, including the mutilation of much valuable live stock, the burning of a school house and the destruction of other property. The girl is of unsound mind.

FIRE IN A MINE.

Fears of an Explosion Cause a Suspension of Operations.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 11.—Work at the Hartford mine has been shut down because of the fear for the safety of the miners, it having been discovered by a mine boss that a section of the mine in the lower lift, where twenty-four men were killed two years ago, is a mass of fire ter a distance of a hundred feet. The fire is in a section which has not been worked since the accident referred to above. An attempt will be made to quench the fire through the old shaft where the bodies of the dead men were brought out.

OHIO'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Major McKinley Takes the Gubernatorial Oath and Assumes Charge of State Affairs.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Governor McKinley took the oath of office at 11:20 this morning, and Lieutenant Governor Harris, Attorney General R. K. Watson, State Treasurer W. T. Coup, State Auditor E. W. Poe, Commissioner of Public Works C. E. Grolce and Food Commissioner W. J. McKean were subsequently sworn in their respective offices in the capitol. Not in many years has inauguration day brought more satisfactory weather. The day was crisp and not too cold, and the streets are in excellent condition for marching. The inaugural ceremonies proper were held in the rotunda of the state capital. The general assembly met at 10:30 o'clock and at once proceeded to the rotunda, accompanied by the supreme judges and state officers-elect, except Major McKinley and the state officers. At 11 o'clock Governor Campbell and Governor-elect McKinley were escorted by a joint committee of the house and senate, appointed to have charge of the inaugural ceremonies, from the Christian hotel to the capital. Rev. Dr. Bennett, of the Wesley Episcopal M. E. church, offered prayer, after which Chief Justice Marshall J. Williams, of the supreme court, administered the oath of office to Governor McKinley delivered his inaugural address. The whole inaugural party then repaired to the reviewing stand in the state house yard immediately north of the capital and facing Broad street. A gun fired at the conclusion of the inaugural address was the signal for the parade of military and civic organizations, which had been forming, to move. The parade was probably the most imposing ever seen here on such an occasion. The first division was composed entirely of political clubs, not less than thirty different organizations being represented, most of them composed of from seventy to 200 men. The second division was made up of secret societies, organizations, and unattached military posts of this city, though a number of other cities were represented. The third division was composed of the state military, infantry at Los Angeles, Cal., and that Mrs. Hearne had gone stark crazy. Parties likely to know refuse to confirm or deny the statement, and R. H. Stillwell, and wife, being in Cuba, it is impossible, to learn the facts here. The facts in regard to her attempt to run off to Germany are as follows. Dr Hearne had been brutal to her, chastising her at different times, and she went to Chicago, where she was met by R. H. Stillwell and wife. There she made her will and left the doctor $1. R. H. Stillwell and wife witnessed the document and returned home. She left for Germany. After the doctor induced her to return the will was altered and he was left almost her entire share. This is vouched for by interested parties, and is also said to be a fact by one of the county court judges. Mrs. Hearne, it will be remembered, was formerly the wife of A. J. Stillwell, the wealthy lumberman, who was murdered several years ago. That sensation was followed by the marriage of Dr. Hearne.

THE ADMIRAL'S FUNERAL.

The Remains Laid to Rest in the Naval Cemetery.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Funeral services over the remains of Rear Admiral Rogers were held at St. John's Episcopal church this morning. Long before the hour for the services to begin a body of sailors, who were to bear the coffin, waited at the church in the drizzling rain to carry the remains of their late commander and act as an escort. In accordance with the expressed wish of the dead admiral, the funeral was private. Bishop Leonard, who before his appointment as bishop was pastor of the church, conducted the services, assisted by Rector Dr. Douglass. A large delegation of officials was present to represent the navy department. The Episcopal burial services were read, and at the conclusion a glowing tribute was paid to the deceased by Bishop Leonard. The body was then borne from the church to the hearse and thence to the Pennsylvania railroad station and placed on a special car for transportation to Anapolis for interment.

MAINE'S ICE CROP

Threatens to be a Failure—No Ice Yet on the Rivers.

Rascos, Me. Jan. 11.—Every tidewater river in Maine is open to steam vessels to the head of navagation, something never before known in the history of the state. The ice harvesting, which is usually so abur. last at this time of the year, is not to be seen hereabouts, and there is grave apprehension that the ice crop will be almost a total failure. Ice men are anxiously watching the Hudson river, and there in no hope of getting a required thickness before the middle of February.

FOREIGN VOTERS.

Senator Chandler Urges the Passage of the Bill Disfranchising Them.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The joint resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution which prohibits all persons of foreign birth, not citizens of the United States, from voting for any office, either state or national will be vigorously pressed by Senator Chandler, its protector. The purpose of the amendment is to take the authority to issue naturalization papers out of the hands of the state courts and place it under the immediate control of the federal government.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Speaker Crisp to Ill-tos Preside—Some Important Bills Come Up For Discussion.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The vice president laid before the senate at its opening today a communication from the interior department asking an immediate deficiency appropriation of $150,000 for the support of the Sioux Indians in transmitting which the authorities of the department expressed the opinion that unless the appropropriation was made before February 5 next the result might possible be a renewal of the Sioux "ghost dance" and the disturbances of last year. The communication was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Mr. Perkins, the newly appointed senator from Kansas, elicited the attention of the senate by saying that he had a communication to present which had been addressed to his distinguished predecessor, Mr. Plumb, from the United States minister in Mexico, Mr. Thomas Ryan. He asked that it be read. Mr. Harris, who had previously objected the reading and printing in the Record of memorials on the ground that if one senator was permitted to inaugurate this practice, every other senator would be hauled over the coals by their constituents for not securing equal prominence to their petitions, withdrew his objections in this case and the communication was read. Minister Ryan, under date of the City of Mexico, December 9th, 1891, wrote that it had been suggested that it would be a generous act on the part of the United States to return to Mexico the trophies of war captured from her armies in the Mexicantwar. Whatever sentiment might prevail among the citizens of the United States with regard to the justice or injustice of the invasion of Mexico, more than forty years ago, Minister Ryan thought public sentiment would acquiesce in the return of these war trophies as a graceful act to a sister republic, next to the United States, the greatest power on the American continent.

Speaker Crisp, although improving, was unable to face the wintry winds that surged up and down the avenue this morning, and Speaker Protem McMillan called the house to order at noon. The attendance was quite large, most of the members having returned from their holiday vacation. The absentees were mostly those who have been excused for reasons of illness and business. The congress is not yet so old that it has lost the interest of the people and the galleries were well filled when the gavel fell and Chaplain Milburn invoked the divine blessing.

A FIGHT WITH PUMAS.

Williams Saer, a Painter, Has a Struggle With One of the Beasts That is Terrorizing Ohio People.

Lejpsic, Ohio, has been in a turmoil of excitement the past few weeks over the discovery that two large and ferocious pumas were running wild in the swamps near the town. The beasts began to make such a slaughter of live stock that an organized effort was made to run them down. Hunters for miles around came to Leipsic and volunteered their assistance in the case. Consequently last Saturday the most intense excitement and the largest band of armed men seen in that section in twenty years was assembled to take part in the big ring that started at 10:30. The crowd was estimated at 700 men, and at least fifty hounds were held by their owners until the signal was sounded for the vast ring to move. Among the army of hunters were several from Fort Wayne, among them William Saer, who for some time was employed as painter by the Wayne Paint and Painting company.

The hunters went into camp at 10 o'clock Saturday night to wait for daylight, and at the first break of dawn Sunday morning were up and ready to resume the hunt for the pumas that eluded them. The swamp was well lighted all night, and squads of men were following the hounds nearly all night. William Saer, of this city, while a short distance from his camp, was met and attacked by one of the pumas and had to fight for his life. His cries were heard by William Mosts and Joe Cox, who hurried to his assistance. Saer was found lying in the snow covered with blood, his clothes literally cut in shreds, and his

by the claws of the beast, and his shoulder was badly bitten. Saer is a large and powerful man, and says that when the brute sprang from the thicket upon him, that he felt as helpless as a child, and, though he fought the beast the best he could, was no match for the powerful brute, that seemed to have the strength of a lion. These courageous beasts seem to have no fear of their pursuers, as they appear among them at frequent intervals, and at every visit someone is badly injured. Their actions are of most cunning and desperate nature. They seem to have no fear whatever of the hounds that are trailing them, and when a dog has once been attacked by the beasts they hold them in mortal dread, and will not go near them again.

It is stated by J. K. Baughman and Frank Fockler, who were in the chase yesterday, that their dogs covered a distance of

NEARLY SEVENTY MILES

From 10 in the morning until 5 in the evening, when they were called off. It was feared last night that two of the hunters of the south section had been killed and devoured by the beasts, as the snow was covered with blood and foot-prints of the two men were trailed to where the blood was found, and a trail made through the snow by something being dragged off, but on examination by Dan Shefford and S. E. Smith, it was found to be the carcass of a half-grown calf that had been killed and dragged to a thicket where the pumas had devoured the most of it.

The whole camp is swarming with hunters today, and the number of hounds at work on the different trails is estimated to be nearly 100. It is now believed the animals have dens on some of the large islands. These men have followed the trail of these brutes for many a mile and have a good knowledge of their ways and it is by this means they are able to avoid their pursuers by first taking to the water and then to their dens. Up to last night no one had been able to get a shot at the beasts. Most of the hunters were camped on the ground last night and at daylight started in for another day's hunt.

The puma is found from Canada to Patagonia, especially among the mountains. Its color is tawny, or brownish yellow, without spots or stripes. It is known also by the names catamount, cougar, American lion, mountain lion and panther.

Adams at the secretary's desk. It has been definitely settled that the encampment will be held in this city April 6. Among the prominent men who have promised to be present are General Alger, of Detroit, General A. G. Wescott, of Milwaukee, General Palmer, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., and others. It has been decided to engage the band from the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home at Knightstown, an organization that is composed of twenty Sons of Veterans. The encampment committee will meet every second and fourth Saturday of each month from this time until the time of the convention. Col. C. A. Zollinger, who is a member of the council of administration, will go to Indianapolis tomorrow to attend to matters pertaining to the approaching encampment.

BOTH FEET SCALDED.

Patrick O'Brien Meets With a Very Serious Accident—Other Mishaps.

Patrick O'Brien, who has been employed as fireman in the engine room of the electric department of the Pittsburg shops, had both feet terribly scalded by steam last evening while in the act of "blowing out" the boiler. The man was conveyed to his home, 21 Buchanan street, where Dr. George C. Stemen attended him. Mr. O'Brien is sixty years of age and has a family. He will be incapacitated for duty a long time.

Mrs R. D. Bayles, of Miner street, suffered a severe concussion of the brain by a fall Sunday. She remained unconscious for some time.

William Tuttweiller, a switchman in the Fort Wayne yards, was struck on the head by a coupling pin and knocked senseless this morning. Dr. George C. Stemen dressed the injury.

Frank J. Mersman commences an action in the superior court for divorce from Isabella Mersman. Owen N. Heaton is the plaintiff's attorney.

Chas. M. Hays, as attorney for Chas. Rogers, commences an action in the circuit court against Barney Von Oppen et al to foreclose a mechanics lien.

Justice Wilkinson fined Mrs. Attie Lemke $10 and costs for assault and battery on her children. The woman was sent to jail.

Many of the residents of the southern part of the city, for some time past, have been frightened at nights by bearded men appearing at their windows at nights. The police have been on the lookout for the rascals, and Saturday night, when they attempted it again, Officer Rapp arrested Wesley Pratt, one of the fellows. A set of false whiskers were found in his pockets, and in police court this morning he confessed that he was guilty of putting them on and looked in windows to frighten the girls. He is a young fellow about sixteen years of age. The mayor fined him $5 and costs. He refused to tell the names of the other boys who, with him, have been indulging in this "fun" for some time past.

Justice France fined Mrs. Makepeace $1 and costs for provoking Susanah Koenig. She was charged with calling Mrs. K. names which reflected on her character. James Jacobs was fined for malicious trespass.

James Kellar and Michael Collins, who assaulted Abdallah Salaam, the Turk, an account of which is given on the inside pages of The Sentinel today, were fined $1 and costs in Justice France's court. Warrants are out for the arrest of three other parties.

A. Loey was fined $1 and costs by Justice Ryan for provoking M. W. Tinkham, a medical student.

The case of George Klinkenberg against the Nickel Plate railroad has been carried from 'Squire Wilkinson's court to a higher court.

Erastus McCarty was fined $1 and costs by Justice France for provoking his wife, Eliza Jane McCarthy. His fine amounted to $14. He went to jail. Eliza Jane McCarthy was fined $1 and costs for provoking her husband, Erastus McCarty. She went to jail.

Saturday afternoon Justice Wilkinson fined Fred Marlott in two cases, one for Sabbath desecration, and the other for selling liquor without a license, amounting to $41.

Will Mahin, who had his overcoat stolen from the Taylor university cloak room Thursday, has had it returned to him by the officers, who found it in a barn shop on Barr street, where the thief had secured a small sum of money on it.

The Huntington Herald says: "Judge Nindo and son, Harry, of Fort Wayne, were in the city today examining witnesses with a view of learning the circumstances connected with the accident on the railroad which caused the death of Cal Lyon, the engineer. The witnesses were examined in the law office of J. B. Kenner. Mrs. Lyon will probably bring suit against the Chicago and Erie railroad if her attorneys conclude there is material for a good case."

SNOW BOUND.

Passenger Trains in Scotland Unable to Move.

London, Jan. 11.—Reports received this morning from Scotland and the northern counties of England, state that the fall of snow continues incessant and heavy, while the weather remains intensely cold. The passenger train which on Friday last became imbedded in a snow drift a considerable distance from a railroad station in Caithness, the most northerly county in Scotland, remains unmovable. A relief train which was dispatched to the assistance of the stalled passenger train, found it impossible to make headway against the dense masses of snow which the wind constantly piled up on the roadway, and it, too, stands on the track, powerless to aid the passenger train or extricate itself. A second relief train, drawn by powerful engines, is now pushing its way toward the scene of the blockade. Meantime the snowbound passengers and the crews are in a most miserable plight, and it is feared that they are suffering intensely from hunger, thirst and cold, owing to the failure of the first relief expedition to reach them with supplies.

H. L. Palmer, special agent of the Mutual Life Insurance company, is the guest of D. C. Fisher, the local agent, today.

CAMPBELL CONFESSES

To a Crime for Which Sidney Bell Had Been Sentenced to Death—Great Excitement Prevails.

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—Campbell's confession in the Jacobson murder case created a great stir among the police here, as the department had set its heart on hanging Sidney Bell just as it has on stretching the neck of Actor Curtis. The police ridicule Campbell's latest statement, and say they have proof that Schwartz, who he charges with shooting Jacobson, was on the overland train coming to Frisco when the murder was committed. The police claim to have peculiar letters, written by Rev Chalmers Easton to Campbell's wife, urging her to secure testimony that would clear Bell. Easton, who is a prominent clergyman here, is fully convinced of Bell's innocence and has worked hard for him. Mrs. Campbell, wife of the man now in Chicago, is a notorious character here. She has been a beer waiter in under ground saloons and is regarded as a woman who would stop at nothing to accomplish her purpose. There has been much speculation as to the source of the money with which the expenses of the case are being defrayed. It is now known that a brother of Bell's father is furnishing the funds, and from the great amount of work done it is computed that fully $10,000 has already been expended. This wealthy uncle of the convicted murderer lives at Columbus, Ohio, and is a prominent stock holder in the Columbus Manufacturing company. Bell's family is said to be one of respectability and it is in the effort to save a good name from the disgrace which would attach to it by the execution of a Kinsman that money is being spent. Soon after Sidney Bell came to the coast the police here received a letter from his parents, who made anxious inquires about him. His extraordinary criminal character had developed long before he left home, but letters sent by Bell's people to Chief Crowley were not remembered by him until after the trial of the accused and his conviction.

DR. HEARNE ARRESTED.

SILENT AND SAD

Were the Obsequies of Young Dr. Hoover and McCullough—The Deaths and Funerals.

There was no display at the funeral of Dr. Howard McCullough this morning, the wishes of the young doctor having been carried out in every detail. The residence of Dr. T. P. McCullough, father of the deceased, did not accommodate the friends who had come to see the last sad offices performed and hear the words of eulogy from Rev. D. W. Moffat and Rev. A. W. Seabrease, but with bowed heads and hats removed, many remained in the yard until the brief services were at an end. The remains reposed in a plain cloth casket which was nearly buried beneath many beautiful flowers, most striking of all the tributes being a floral chair bearing the words, "Physiology," and "Vacant," which was sent by the medical department of Taylor university. A more appropriate tribute could not have been conceived, as the doctor had held the chair of physiology in the institution for several years, and lectured up to within a short time before his death. Hundreds of friends followed the remains to Lindenwood.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Mrs. Regenia Bohrer, aged fifty-three years, died at his home in Aboite township, of typhoid pneumonia, Sunday night. She was born in Germany and reared a family, several grown-up children surviving her.

The female twins of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ruhl, of St. Joe township, died Saturday night, age two days. The funeral took place Sunday at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Melissa Gilchrist, of 60 West Berry street, died this morning after a lingering illness. Her age was sixty-two years. She was the wife of Christopher Gilchrist, and was a Christian woman. Her birthplace was Warren, N. Y. The husband and one daughter survive her.

J. J. Dooley a Chicago traveling salesman who frequently visits this city, passed through here Saturday night en route to Fletcher, Ohio, where he today attended the funeral of the late David Lavan, the father of Mrs Dudley, and a relative of Mrs. L. O. Hull, of this city. The deceased was for a number of years a prominent citizen of Wabash, removing from that city to Fletcher a few years ago.

The funeral of Mrs. Rhinesmith took place from the residence, on West Wayne street, this morning and was largely attended.

FAST DRIVING.

Names of Those Indulging in It Are Being Secured.

Fast driving is prohibited in this city, but, notwithstanding there is a stringent law in regard to it, West Wayne street was quarter where this sport was carried on to an alarming extent yesterday. The contests were very exciting. It is understood that during the fun a policeman was quietly taking notes, and it is said that he secured quite a list of names. It is not likely that prosecutions will follow, but the persons who are known to have participated will be quietly informed that they must discontinue the practice.

CHURCH revivals are being held in many of the city churches this week.

OHIO changes governors today. Mr Campbell steps out and Mr. McKinley steps in.

THE jingle of the sleigh bells, which has been heard in this city for the last few days, is sweet music to the ear.

A NEW political party has been formed at Chicago. Reciprocity is its platform and Blaine its candidate for president.

JUDGING from indications in Indiana, it looks very much as if Mr. Blaine would receive the republican nomination for president. Poor Mr. Harrison! It seems too bad he cannot receive the support of his own state.

GEN. B. F. BUTLER is reported to be worth several million dollars. Besides possessing an abundance of real estate in Boston, Washington and Chicago, he owns the big Craig ranch, near Pueblo, Col., the largest ranch in the state, has 150,000 acres of coal and mineral lands in Virginia, and controls part of the Mora grant of 600,000 acres in New Mexico.

JEROME HERFF, of Peru, who was chosen a member of the democratic state central committee from the Eleventh congressional district, was in the city Saturday and enjoyed the republican circus at the circuit court room. He has been over many parts of the state during the last few weeks and says both parties are getting into line. He puts Indiana down for democracy and tariff reform this year.

THE democratic state central committee will meet at Indianapolis on Wednesday for organization. It is composed as follows: First district, August Brentano, Evansville; second, W M Moss, Bloomfield; third, M. Z. Stannard, Jeffersonville; fourth, W. H. O'Brien, Lawrenceburg; fifth, W M. Gielam, Spencer; sixth, Charles W. Buchanan, Union City; seventh, Tom Taggart, Indianapolis; eighth, James M Hoskins, Brazil; ninth, David F. Allen, Frankfort; tenth, Henry A. Barnhart, Rochester; eleventh, Jerome Herff, Peru; twelfth, Wright W Rockhill, Fort Wayne; thirteenth, Ed. F. Marshall, South Bend.

THE republicans met Saturday throughout the state in county conventions to elect delegates to district conventions which meet shortly to elect a new state central committee. The Blaine and Harrison factions antagonized each other at various points. In many of the northern counties Blaine followers seemed to be the more numerous and where this was the case Blaine delegates were selected. In Lawrence and other southern counties Harrison seemed the favorite. At Bedford the Australian system of selecting delegates to the county conventions and for the nomination of county officers was promptly voted down. In Putnam and Hamilton counties the attendance was slim and without enthusiasm. At Greencastle the meeting was so small that an adjournment was taken until this week. In Madison county the administration men were paralyzed by a delegation from Elwood, 250 strong, all wearing Blaine badges. The delegation not only compelled a recognition of Blaine in the resolutions that were passed, but also forced a division of the delegates who will aid in the selection of a state central committee. In Indianapolis no county convention was held, but ward and precinct primaries selected delegates and there was not much opportunity for either faction to get up any racket. They managed, however, to get up a "scrimmage" in the Fourth ward and two sets of delegates were selected, one Blaine and the other Harrison. The county precincts and southern Indianapolis wards show some Blaine strength, but the Harrison crowd are claiming two delegates to every one selected for Blaine.

HARRY HANNA WINS.

He is Indorsed for a Member of the Republican State Central Committee from This District.

The preliminary organization of the county republican mass convention had but just been completed by the election of John Morris, jr., for presiding officer and O. E. Mohler of the Gazette, for secretary when THE SENTINEL went to press last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the proceedings up to that hour were published in our Saturday's issue.

Exciting and turbulent as had been the scenes witnessed up to that time they bore no comparison in this respect to those that followed, for they were but the inaugural of one of the noisiest, most disorderly and exciting political conventions ever held in this county. The animated conventions of the democracy in the past were eclipsed and the republicans held the palm for pandemonium, but the democrats who sat in the gallery enjoyed it and voted Saturday's convention better than any circus.

Mr Morris had hardly finished his speech of thanks for the honor conferred upon him until a half dozen republicans were yelling "Mr Chairman," "Mr Chairman" at the top of their voices. The chair recognized R. T. McDonald, who presented this motion: "I move that the chairman appoint a committee of seven republicans, who shall retire at once and select the members of the Allen county central committee."

Cries of "It will never do," "It is usurping the powers of the convention," "Its the gag rule," and "We won't stand it," were heard in all directions, and a dozen exciting bitter speeches were made. Finally the motion was put and carried. The chair appointed the committee and they retired for deliberation, when "Sandy" Drummond mounted a table, introduced a resolution that the delegates to the district convention at Auburn cast their ballots for G. Will Wilson for member of the state central committee and moved its adoption.

The introduction of this resolution precipitated the big row of the convention, for there was another candidate for district committeeman in the person of Harry Hanna, and immediately yells of "No, No," "Gag rule," "Put him out," "Hanna," "Wilson," were heard in every part of the court room, and a scene of confusion that is indescribable reigned for fifteen minutes. A score of persons were yelling for recognition from the chair. Finally Dr. Stemen, who had got up by the side of the president, yelled out in thunder tones: "Mr. Chairman!" By this time the convention had yelled itself hoarse and had stopped to breathe. This was Dr. Stemen's time, and he continued in tones that claimed attention:

Mr. Chairman, I demand recognition. I have something to say, and I want to say it. I have this to say, that no such gag rule can prevail in this convention. We are men living in a free country, and will never submit to such outrageous gag rule proceedings. I move to lay the motion on the table.

This aroused Will Wilson and jumping up on top of the secretary's table he said:

"All we want, gentlemen, is fairness. Gag rule, indeed! If you have votes enough to defeat me, cast them and you can vote on this motion. These dilatory movements to lay on the table and the previous question are indications that you are whipped."

Ringing and vehement speeches followed from George McCoy, J. B Harper, and others, when finally Harry Hanna gained recognition from the chair and trembling with indignation said:

"Gentlemen, you have heard Mr. Wilson, now hear me. He has said that I was a Harrison man; he has said that I was an anti-Harrison man; he has said that I am backed by the office holders, and it's an a LIE. I say to you, fellow republicans, that if there are any democrats here, with all due respect to them, I am opposed to their principles. I am for protection and reciprocity. I am not against the administration, but am for its principles and the principles of the republican party. Gentlemen, exercise your best judgment and discretion and vote as you please. I say to you all that the reciprocity and tariff issues are of more importance than the election of either Mr Wilson or myself, and I hope that at the next republican convention we can endorse Blaine and reciprocity. I am glad to see a fight. I hope it will be a good fight, as it will prepare us for the battle of ballots next fall, which will be such a fight as we have never witnessed before." [Some one yelled "put him out." Mr. Hanna responded, "It will take a bigger man than you to put me out," pointing his finger at the man.] Mr. Hanna continued. "All I ask is that the convention let each republican vote with all fairness and good judgment."

Finally, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, Drummond's motion was withdrawn and the convention proceeded to ballot upon the names of G. Will Wilson and Harry Hanna to determine which should be presented to the Auburn convention as Allen county's choice for member of the republican state central committee. J. B Harper presented Harry Hanna and John T. Leach presented Will Wilson. The vote was then taken by written ballot and resulted: Hanna, 313; Wilson, 207. Mr. Wilson moved that the convention endorse Mr. Hanna by acclamation as state committeeman from this district and give him power to appoint his own delegates to the Auburn convention for his support. This motion was carried unanimously.

The committee of seven appointed by the chair to select the Allen county central committee then reported the names selected by them and their report was adopted by the convention. The committee is as follows: W. J. Esterline, Aboite township; C. W. Cook, Adams township; J. B. Hadley, Cedar Creek township; R. E. Baird, Eel River township; John McConnell, Jackson township; J. Bieber, Jefferson township; John Archer, Lake township; A. W. Meeks, Monroe township; [Contest], Madison township; James Thompson, Maumee township; Martin Truck, Pleasant township; Charles Starr, Springfield township; Geo. Rymer, Scipio township; Hale Ashley, St. Joe township; John Shank, Lafayette township; E. H. Bacheller, Maumee township; Felix Grosjean, Washington township; [Protest], Perry township; J. Hatfield, Milan township; W. J. Vesey, Wayne township; Clark Fairbank, First ward, city; J. B Harper, Second ward, city; Joseph Gruber, Third ward, city; Tony Kelker, Fourth ward, city; R. T. McDonald, Fifth ward, city; Levi Griffith, Sixth ward, city; Ed Shellenbarger, Seventh ward, city; W. D. Page, Eight ward, city; A. R. McCurdy, ninth ward, city; Thomas Deibilbiss, Tenth ward, city.

After the reading and adoption of the committee's report, Mr. Hanna presented his delegates to the Auburn convention, and the mass meeting adjourned.

COME INTO THE ARK.

Rev. J. L. Leeper Pleads With the Sinner to Put His Trust in Christ.

"Noah's Forecast" was the theme of the sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Second Presbyterian church by Rev. J. L. Leeper. Bartholdi's statue, he said in commencing, in the harbor of New York, stands as one of the marvelous and collossal works of man's building, and is a study for the world. So in the history of men we behold collossal figures which are intended by God to be the study of the race. Such a figure was Noah. He lived, it is true, centuries before the coming of the Christian era, but his life, his faith, his forecast and his wisdom in acting upon the promises of God are lessons for men of today to study and profit from in the living of their own lives. The speaker then told in a brief and interesting way of God's warning to Noah of the coming of the flood on account of the wickedness of man, of His command to Noah to build himself an ark; of Noah's faith and his building of the ark although the world of that day laughed at him; of the coming of the flood and Noah's salvation from the waters. Rev. Leeper then drew from the Gospel narrative some of the lessons he sought to teach. Noah's foresight in providing for the future, for the coming of the day of God's wrath, should teach us to do the same. Many say, "Oh, there is no danger of the world being destroyed by flood again." The Lord will come, however, to punish the inhabitants of this earth for their wickedness, and we should be prepared for His coming. Men provide earthly things for the future, but neglect to provide for their heavenly welfare. You had better lose all on this earth than to lose the opportunity of preparing for that great day when God shall judge you for the deeds done in the body. Oh that the sinner would be wise and prepare for the future by seeking salvation in Christ. Noah's faith triumphed and it led to his salvation. So it will be with those who put their trust in Christ. As certainly as God came to destroy the world in Noah's time, so He will come again. No one will escape but those who are in the ark, and that ark is Christ. Come and accept salvation, for he that believeth shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned. Come! God, from His throne in heaven, calls, His ministers call, the dear friends of earth call, the angels call. All plead with the sinner to come into the ark. Christ is a safe and sure refuge and will give an eternity of happiness to all who put their trust in Him. The sermon was interesting and eloquent throughout and held the audience attentive listeners until its close.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Men and Women Tonight—The Attractions for This Week.

This week will be an eventful one at the Masonic Temple, there being attractions at that play house four nights—tonight, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Tonight the attraction will be De Mille and Belasco's latest successful play, "Men and Women." The piece will be presented by Charles Froham's company, of New York. It has already enjoyed a run of 250 nights in New York and fifty nights in Chicago.

The famous "ould" Irish brick, Pat Rooney, will appear at the Temple Wednesday, in his funny play, "Lord Rooney." "Pat is a well-known character, and if there is any one in the city who has never heard of him," says Trombone Smith, the light haired horn blower of Reineke's orchestra, "I will cheerfully inform them who he is. I trained with him six years."

The lovers of light opera will have a treat next Thursday, when Conried's comic opera company will sing "Poor Jonathan," at the Masonic Temple. "Poor Jonathan' was written in 1889 by Carl Milloecker, the composer of "The Beggar Student," and "The Black Hussar," at the suggestion of Manager Conried, who was particularly desirous of interesting the great musician in the composition of a new opera having an American subject.

HARD ON A BARBER.

Detroit has a barber who if talking had never existed would have invented it, and still he is an excellent barber with a good patronage. Since last Tuesday evening, however, he has been wearing a countenance of gloom and disappointment, and some of his friends think he is contemplating suicide.

At 7 o'clock of the evening mentioned a man evidently from Chicago came in, and removing his external integuments took a chair.

"Certainly," responded the customer, fixing himself comfortably. "I haven't been shaved for three days, owing to the fact that several days ago in response to an invitation from a man whom I know only slightly, having met him but once or twice during his trips to Chicago on business in which we were both interested, I went over here into a back county of Canada about fifty miles from any railroad station, in a section of country where there weren't any razors except those the hogs wore on their backs, and I haven't been able to slide my chin against anything sharper than a Canadian zephyr 20 degs. below the ice notch, and the consequence has been that I have had a growth of bristles that I think if my wife should run her face against on my return to my native village, would give her such a shock that she wouldn't let me come near her again for the next six months, or at least until I had promised her faithfully that I never would let myself get into such a condition again, even if I went into the wilds of Africa, where I suppose a man's whiskers in the luxuriant climate of that latitude would grow to such a thicket of hirsute stubbiness that there wouldn't be any way of cutting them, unless he imported a double strength reaper and mower with re-enforced knives in order that there might not be any mistakes in the accomplishment of the job for which it had never been designed, but for which, thanks to the excellence of American manufactures, it would readily adapt itself in an emergency of this kind, provided it were in the hands of a competent and efficient person who knew exactly its capabilities and was conversant with the proper methods of its application to— You ain't through, are you? I don't want any shampoo, hair cut or anything else. How much? Fifteen cents? Here's your money," and slapping on his coat and hat he bounced out without giving the barber a chance to say a single word.—Detroit Free Press.

As a horse and cattle lotion Salvation Oil has proven itself an infallible remedy. It has received the hearty indorsements of many old and well known horsemen. Price 25 cents a bottle.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition due directly to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. It is remarkable how beneficial Hood's Sarsaparilla is in this enervating state. Possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, this medicine purifies the blood, and imparts a feeling of serene strength which is comforting and satisfying. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy for that weakness which prevails at change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I have been convinced that Hood's Sarsaparilla is one of the greatest medicines in the world. I say this for the benefit of all other tired out, run down, hard working women. Hood's Sarsaparilla is not only excellent as a blood purifier, but for all other female complaints, even if of long standing." MRS. M. A. SCARLETT, Northville P. O., Mich.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Meeting of Railway Surgeons at Grand Rapids—Dr. Myers Reads an Interesting Paper—Local News.

Last Friday the Michigan Association of Railway Surgeons held its first annual session at Grand Rapids. Those present from this city were Dr. William H. Myers and Dr. E. J. McOscar. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Myers, the president. Then followed an election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, O K Johnson, Grand Rapids; first vice president, William H. Myers, Fort Wayne; second vice president, J. P. Mason, Houghton; secretary and treasurer, F. W. Garber, Muskegon. Among a number of interesting papers read during the meeting was one by Dr. W. H. Myers upon the subject of "Treatment of Compound Fractures." After remarking the value of antiseptic treatment, which, after all, was only a matter of cleanliness, the doctor cited a case in his own practice, in which the bones of a leg, between the knee and the ankle, were both broken and a portion carried away. He had bound the splintered pieces of bone, after cleansing them thoroughly, into their normal position and sustained them there by means of bandages. The wound, in that shape, had been allowed to remain for twenty-eight days without treatment of any kind, and the bone grafting process resulted in a firm union of the parts No pus formed nor any alarming temperature resulted. The man lived to walk again with that leg. The doctor had always treated compound fractures in the same way, following the same process as in the treatment of simple fractures, except that in the former case he used antiseptic dressing.

The next meeting place of the society was fixed for Grand Rapids on the second Friday in July.

AN OLD WABASH RAILROADER.

One of the oldest employes of the Wabash company is Edward Severance, who has worked for the road in various capacities for the past thirty-one years, fourteen of which he spent as passenger conductor. He entered railroad service as a laborer for the Wabash railroad company in the freight house at Toledo in 1856, and served in that capacity until 1858, when he became brakeman on a freight train. In 1860 he was made brakeman on a passenger train, and in 1861 he resigned to enter the army. In 1866 he returned and was passenger brakeman and baggage-man for three years, or until 1869, when he was promoted to the position of freight conductor and served in that capacity for nine years, or until 1878. In March, 1878, he was appointed passenger conductor, the position which he still holds.

A NEW WAY TO MAKE LUMBER.

A machine has been invented which, if it fulfills the expectations of the patentee and those who have seen it in operation, will prove very valuable. It is forty-two feet long, fifteen wide and eight high, and weighs forty-five tons. Its object is to do away with the use of buzz saws in cutting logs and lumber; it cuts the wood as one might cut a slice of cheese or butter, with a sharp knife, thus avoiding the waste of lumber, which is considerable under the present methods The boards are said to drop from the knife as smooth as if they had been subjected to sandpaper. The machine will cut a board 1-32 of an inch in thickness, or a big log. The knife is three feet long and weighs 500 pounds. It works with a draw motion—a combination of knife and saw.

BRIEF MENTION.

Dr. J. M. Kells, of the relief department, is at Warsaw today.

The cold weather is increasing the repair work in the Pittsburg shops.

R. T. McDonald, manager of the Electric Light works, went to New York Saturday night.

C H. Newton, of the Wabash, conducted the meeting at the railroad Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon.

The indications are that January will be an expensive month for the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association. The number of sick shopmen and trainmen was never greater than it is at present. Of course, many of these men are not members of the association, but it is pretty safe to say that fully two-thirds of them are.

A. B. Purcell, a machinist, has taken a position in the Pittsburg shops, being assigned to Hugh Hogan's department.

Frank Schram and F. A. Tagtmeyer, of the Pittsburg round house, who were on the sick list, have returned to their work.

John Newell, president of the Lake Shore road, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be on duty again.

Pittsburg engineers Charles Newell, C. J. Pierson and C. Bricker and fireman S Gable and T. Shea are on the sick list.

General Manager Joseph A. Wood, of the Pennsylvania, is now making a tour of the southwestern system. Later in the week he will probably visit this city.

No 5, on the Pittsburg, was two hours late this morning. Wabash limited, No. 42, was also an hour behind. The delays are due to the snow and ice

Eugene V. Debs, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Federation of Railway Men, will address a general meeting of all branches of railroad men at Chicago January 16.

Conductor W. L. Benedick will resume charge of the Plymouth accommodation this evening. He made two round trips on a through freight for a conductor who was sick.

On most of the roads division superintendents have instructed roadmasters to put on night track walkers to detect broken rails, should there chance to be any during the cold weather.

Samuel Murphy, a painter at the Pittsburg shops, is sick and off duty. John Sanders, of the same department, has obtained a few days lay off and will chase the festive rabbit during that time.

The Wabash has completed arrangements whereby passengers ticketed to Hot Springs may purchase sleeping car tickets through from Toledo, and retain the same location selected until their journey's end.

Nearly every young man employed in the Pittsburg offices and shops who could get a pair of skates, was on the ice in Lakeside Saturday evening. Herman Hobrock, of Mr. Meegan's office, was one of the most graceful skaters on the pond.

John P. Herring, a freight conductor on the Pittsburg road, jumped off the caboose at Sandusky Saturday, and broke his right ankle. He was brought to his home, No. 237 East Creighton avenue, where Dr. George C. Stemen was called and dressed the wound.

Engineer Peter Hartman and Mrs. Hartman, of Ann Arbor, Mich., are in the city, the guests of Engineer and Mrs. Charles Adamson. Mr. Hartman is an old Fort Wayne boy and for a number of years had a run on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road He is now employed on a Michigan road, making his headquarters at Ann Arbor.

It is stated that in the year 1891 more firemen were promoted to the position of locomotive engineers than in any former year. This is due to several causes; first, the heavy business the roads have been doing required the manning of more locomotives; second, an unusually large number of veteran engineers left the footboard, giving place to younger men.

The following employes of the Pittsburg machine shop who were on the sick list last week reported for duty this morning: W. H. Noble, H. Miller, Frank Schied, M. C. Tierney, T. N. Kucher and M. J. Lee. In the car shop Charles Hilker, sick two weeks, and A. J. Schermeyer, sick one week, reported this morning, while in the blacksmith department Charles Barnes and M. L. Hardendorf returned to work.

Frederick Bush, mayor of Kalamazoo, Mich., died last Saturday from a cancerous affection which had confined him to his bed for several months. The deceased was one of the most prominent contractors in southern Michigan. The Chicago, Kalamazoo and Saginaw railroad is one of the monuments which remain to honor his memory. Mr. Bush constructed the Grand Rapids and Indiana building in Grand Rapids, and built most of the station buildings along the line.

A native of Rockville was in the city yesterday and after seeing the sights was ready to return to his native heath He purchased a ticket and after walking around on the platform for awhile, the train not showing up, he got impatient and started out to foot it home. He had not gone far until the train hove in sight and the whistle blew for the station The native turned around and yelled out, "Yer needn't holler fer me for I aint comming back, gol durn ye." He walked right on toward Rockville.—Brazil Times.

General Manager Bradbury, of the Lake Erie and Western, feels jubilant over the earnings of the road last year, notwithstanding the expensive strike of last summer He believes that this year will be still more prosperous and is making preparations for business on a large scale The Indianapolis division will be newly equipped with passenger and parlor cars. The Fort Wayne branch, Mr. Bradbury says, has proven to be a great money maker. The track is in fine condition and the division has made more advancement in six months than any road in the country. The passenger business last year was enormous

The force in the Pittsburg shops is badly crippled today. In the planing mills ten men are off duty, most of whom are suffering with the grip. They are John Kretsinger, the foreman; William Lepper, Jacob Waldschmidt, Chas. Volt, L. Duke, John Stark, Peter Jones, Tony Aumann, W. Shafer and W. E Scheafer. In the blacksmith shop the sick list is as follows: Samuel McAfee, John Deagan, Louis Rohling, L Bott, J. A. Wolford, H. Danmeier F. Starkey, H. Dreier, W. Wortenbe, D. Kammeyer, D. L. Mason and F. Pierce. Several are absent from the machine shop, the boiler shop and the round house, but we were unable to get their names.

The first railway in Jerusalem will, we are told, be opened in the spring of the coming year. It is a short line, running only from Joppa, the nearest port on the Mediterranean, and intended to accommodate the growing passenger and other traffic between that place and the Holy City. The work of construction is being carried out by a French company, who began laying down the line in April, 1890. It is fully expected that the speculation will be a paying one. The company anticipates, at all events, making large profits, after paying the shareholders a guaranteed interest of 5 per cent. It is stated that over 40,000 persons land at Joppa every year in order to make a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and other spots celebrated in sacred history.

ASSAULTED A TURK.

At No. 55 West Superior street, several Turkish peddlers have their apartments, among them being Abdallah Salaam, a leader of the little colony. Abdallah is past fifty years old, is a shrewd dealer, and it is hinted that he has gold enough hid away to build several mansions. But he lives in the plainest manner possible, his young daughter acting as his housekeeper. Sunday afternoon two rough looking men entered Abdallah Salaam's apartments, and while the old gentleman was giving them a cordial reception the strangers made a murderous assault on the unsuspecting victim, using for their weapons a heavy club and a beer bottle. They had hammered the old man into unconsciousness and were in the act of ransacking the place when other tenants of the house, who had been aroused by the noise, entered the room The villians fled without having accomplished their purpose. The old Turk lay in a pool of his own blood. Dr M. F. Porter, who was summoned, found the extent of the man's injuries to be a severe scalp wound, bad bruises on the body and all of the front teeth knocked out The doctor asked the injured man if he know who his assailants were This was the reply: "If I see, I know. I kills them then." The old man's face took on a fierce expression when he said the words. He no doubt meant what he said.

The Best Authorities,

Such as Dr. Dio Lewis, Prof. Gross, and others, agree that catarrh is not a local but a constitutional disease. It therefore requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which effectually and permanently cures catarrh. Thousands praise it.

La Grippe!

The tendency of this disease toward pneumonia is what makes it dangerous. La Grippe requires precisely the same treatment as a severe cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of severe colds. This remedy effectually counteracts the tendency of the disease to result in pneumonia, provided that proper care be taken to avoid exposure when recovering from the attack. Careful inquiry among the many thousands who have used this remedy during the epidemics of the past two years has failed to discover a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia.
